

KEY CHANGES MADE

Problem Solved: GN was catching everyone (57%)

Old approach: Decision tree with GN checked early + loose thresholds

New approach: "Highest Score Wins" — each profile gets a calculated score, and the user gets whichever profile they score highest on.

THE NEW SCORING METHOD

Each profile has a formula that adds questions that indicate that profile and subtracts questions that contradict it:

| Profile   | Add These                                      | Subtract These       |
|-----------|------------------------------------------------|----------------------|
| GN | Q2, Q8, Q13, Q20, Q27, Q28, Q31, Q33, Q37, Q40 | Q1, Q3, Q4, Q5, Q12  |
| EE | Q1, Q3, Q9, Q15, Q30                           | Q4, Q7, Q14, Q35     |
| LW | Q4, Q7, Q10, Q18, Q24, Q35                     | Q3, Q8, Q9, Q11, Q30 |
| MM | Q12, Q19, Q32, Q36, Q25                        | Q2, Q27, Q28, Q40    |
| HD | Q5, Q6, Q21, Q22, Q34, Q38                     | Q20, Q31             |
| CC | Q4, Q7, Q14, Q18, Q29                          | Q1, Q8, Q15          |
| PP | Q3, Q9, Q11, Q17, Q23, Q30                     | Q10, Q35             |
| II | Q4, Q10, Q24, Q35                              | Q3, Q8, Q9, Q11      |

Why this works better:

- GN now requires HIGH security scores AND LOW anxiety/avoidance scores to win
- Anxious profiles (EE, HD, PP) are differentiated by shame (HD), devotion (PP), or neither (EE)
- Avoidant profiles (LW, CC, II) are differentiated by intellectualization (CC), dismissiveness (II), or neither (LW)
- MM catches people with chaotic/unpredictable patterns regardless of anxiety/avoidance

EXPECTED NEW DISTRIBUTION

| Profile              | Expected % |
|----------------------|------------|
| Grounded Navigator   | 12-18%     |
| Emotional Enthusiast | 12-18%     |
| Heartfelt Defender   | 12-18%     |
| Passionate Pilgrim   | 10-15%     |
| Lone Wolf            | 10-15%     |
| Chill Conductor      | 8-12%      |
| Independent Icon     | 8-12%      |
| Mystery Mosaic       | 8-12%      |

WHAT'S IN THE FILE (10 Sheets)

1. QUESTIONS — All 40 questions
  2. PROFILE SCORING FORMULAS — The add/subtract formulas for each profile
  3. SCORING EXAMPLE — Worked example showing how to calculate
  4. TIEBREAKER RULES — What to do if two profiles are tied
  5. PROFILE DESCRIPTIONS - SHORT — Gen Z friendly taglines and descriptions
  6. FULL PROFILE DESCRIPTIONS — Complete paragraphs for results page
  7. EXPECTED DISTRIBUTION — Target percentages and how to adjust
  8. ALTERNATIVE SCORING METHOD — Threshold method as backup if formulas don't balance
  9. VALIDATION CHECKLIST — How to test before launch
  10. DEVELOPER IMPLEMENTATION NOTES — Pseudocode for the scoring algorithm

IMPORTANT FOR YOUR DEVELOPERS

Tell them:

1. Calculate ALL 8 profile scores for every user

2. Assign the profile with the HIGHEST score
3. Store all 8 scores in the database (allows re-scoring later if needed)
4. Use tiebreaker rules if two profiles have same highest score

SHEET 2: PROFILE SCORING FORMULAS (Copy everything below into Sheet 2)

METHOD: Calculate a score for each of the 8 profiles. User's profile = HIGHEST score.

| Profile_Code | Profile_Name         | Questions_Added                                | Questions_Subtracted | Formula                                                       |
|--------------|----------------------|------------------------------------------------|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|
| GN           | Grounded Navigator   | Q2, Q8, Q13, Q20, Q27, Q28, Q31, Q33, Q37, Q40 | Q1, Q3, Q4, Q5, Q12  | $(Q2+Q8+Q13+Q20+Q27+Q28+Q31+Q33+Q37+Q40) - (Q1+Q3+Q4+Q5+Q12)$ |
| EE           | Emotional Enthusiast | Q1, Q3, Q9, Q15, Q30                           | Q4, Q7, Q14, Q35     | $(Q1+Q3+Q9+Q15+Q30) - (Q4+Q7+Q14+Q35)$                        |
| LW           | Lone Wolf            | Q4, Q7, Q10, Q18, Q24, Q35                     | Q3, Q8, Q9, Q11, Q30 | $(Q4+Q7+Q10+Q18+Q24+Q35) - (Q3+Q8+Q9+Q11+Q30)$                |
| MM           | Mystery Mosaic       | Q12, Q19, Q32, Q36, Q25                        | Q2, Q27, Q28, Q40    | $(Q12+Q19+Q32+Q36+Q25) - (Q2+Q27+Q28+Q40)$                    |
| HD           | Heartfelt Defender   | Q5, Q6, Q21, Q22, Q34, Q38                     | Q20, Q31             | $(Q5+Q6+Q21+Q22+Q34+Q38) - (Q20+Q31)$                         |
| CC           | Chill Conductor      | Q4, Q7, Q14, Q18, Q29                          | Q1, Q8, Q15          | $(Q4+Q7+Q14+Q18+Q29) - (Q1+Q8+Q15)$                           |
| PP           | Passionate Pilgrim   | Q3, Q9, Q11, Q17, Q23, Q30                     | Q10, Q35             | $(Q3+Q9+Q11+Q17+Q23+Q30) - (Q10+Q35)$                         |
| II           | Independent Icon     | Q4, Q10, Q24, Q35                              | Q3, Q8, Q9, Q11      | $(Q4+Q10+Q24+Q35) - (Q3+Q8+Q9+Q11)$                           |

CALCULATION STEPS:

1. For each profile, add up all the "Questions_Added" scores
2. Then subtract all the "Questions_Subtracted" scores

3. This gives you a final score for that profile (can be negative or positive)
4. Calculate for all 8 profiles
5. User's result = profile with HIGHEST final score

 HD = 24
 EE = 16
 MM = 8
 GN = 3
 CC = -1
 II = -11
 LW = -12

| GN           | Grounded Navigator   | The Secure One      |            | You're emotionally stable and comfortable in relationships. You can be close without being clingy and independent without being cold. Calm energy, good boundaries, real talk. You're the friend everyone comes to. You might stay too comfortable and stop growing. Security can become stagnation. Keep choosing growth even when you're already okay. Push your edges.                                |                 |

You want real connection. Your passion and emotional depth. You make people feel truly seen and wanted. You might mistake intensity for intimacy. Not every overwhelming experience is connecting. Learn to self-soothe before seeking reassurance. Your feelings are valid AND you can hold them. |                 |
| LW           | Lone Wolf            | The Independent One |            | You value your space and freedom. You're most comfortable when you're in control and don't have to depend on anyone. You're calm under pressure and fiercely self-reliant. You don't need anyone to complete you. Those walls that protect you also isolate you. You might be missing connection you actually want. Try one small vulnerability. Let someone in one inch further. It won't kill you.     |                 |

MM    Mystery Mosaic    The Complex One    Your emotional world is unpredictable—sometimes you crave closeness, sometimes you need to push away. It's confusing, even to you.    You're resilient AF. You've survived things and have incredible capacity for growth.    The chaos inside can make relationships feel unstable. You might not trust your own feelings.    Get support. A good therapist can help you find patterns in the chaos. You deserve that.

HD    Heartfelt Defender    The Achiever    You show the world a polished version of yourself while hiding the messy parts. You work hard to be worthy of love.    You're competent, dependable, and everyone's rock. You get things done.    You're exhausted from performing. Deep down, you fear people would leave if they saw the real you. Let the mask crack. Show someone one unpolished truth. Watch them stay anyway.

CC    Chill Conductor    The Analytical One    You live in your head. You're great at understanding emotions—but actually FEELING them? That's harder.    Your insight and objectivity. You see patterns others miss. You're the calm in the storm.    Understanding isn't the same as experiencing. You might be watching your life instead of living it.    Drop from your head into your body. What do you actually FEEL right now? Stay with it.

PP    Passionate Pilgrim    The Devoted One    You want to belong to someone completely. You'll go all-in to prove your love and need to KNOW that you matter.    Your loyalty and devotion are unmatched. When you're in, you're ALL in.    You might lose yourself trying to keep someone. External validation can't fix internal insecurity.    Build security inside yourself that doesn't depend on someone else's reassurance.

II    Independent Icon    The Self-Made One    You pride yourself on not needing anyone. You're strong, capable, and completely self-sufficient.    Your strength and independence are real. You can handle anything alone. You might be lonely without knowing it. Dismissing needs isn't the same as transcending them. What would you want if you let yourself want? That question might surprise you.

SHEET 6: FULL PROFILE DESCRIPTIONS (Copy everything below into Sheet 6)

Profile_Code    Full_Description

GN    You've got something a lot of people are working toward: a secure sense of self in relationships. You can get close to people without losing yourself, and you can be independent without pushing people away. You trust that the people who love you will stick around, and you're comfortable being real with them. Your relationships tend to be stable and satisfying. That doesn't mean you're perfect—you still have challenges—but you have the internal resources to work through them. Your growth edge? Don't let security become complacency. You've got a solid foundation—use it to keep exploring and growing, not just to stay comfortable.

EE    You experience life at full volume. Your emotions are vivid, intense, and sometimes overwhelming. In relationships, you want REAL connection—none of that surface-level stuff—and you're not afraid to show how much you care. You might worry about being abandoned or rejected, and you probably need reassurance that you matter. Here's the thing: your passion is a gift. You bring aliveness, depth, and emotional richness to your relationships.

But your challenge is this: not every intense experience is a connecting experience. Learn to tell the difference between intensity and actual intimacy. And work on soothing yourself when you're anxious, instead of always looking outward for reassurance.

LW Independence is everything to you. You're most comfortable when you're in control and when you maintain some emotional distance. Vulnerability feels dangerous, so you protect yourself by not needing anyone too much. Your self-reliance is impressive—you're calm under pressure, you respect boundaries, and you don't fall apart when things get hard. But the walls that protect you also isolate you. Connection doesn't mean losing yourself. Needing someone doesn't make you weak. Consider whether what you're defending is worth what you might be missing. Try letting someone in—just a little—and see what happens.

MM Your emotional world can feel like a mystery, even to you. Sometimes you desperately want closeness; other times you need to push it away. Your feelings and relationships might feel unpredictable or chaotic. This often comes from early experiences that were confusing or inconsistent. Here's what you need to know: despite the chaos, you have incredible capacity for growth. You're resilient in ways you might not even recognize. With support—especially from a good therapist—you can develop more stable patterns and learn to trust yourself and others. Healing is absolutely possible, and you deserve that support.

HD You show the world a polished, put-together version of yourself. You achieve, you perform, you give—all to feel worthy of love. But underneath that competent exterior, there's a fear: if people saw the REAL you, with all your needs and flaws, they'd leave. So you hide. You're probably successful, well-liked, and completely exhausted. Your challenge is letting the mask crack. You're lovable without performing. The parts of you that you're hiding aren't as unacceptable as you fear. Practice revealing small truths and discovering that people stay.

CC You live in your head and observe the world from a slight distance. You're brilliant at analyzing, understanding, and explaining, but you struggle to drop into your body and actually feel. Emotions are interesting to you intellectually, but experiencing them fully feels threatening. Your strength is your objectivity and insight. Your challenge is embodiment. Understanding isn't the same as experiencing. Practice dropping from head to body—noticing sensations, feelings, aliveness. The observer position protects you, but it also keeps you from fully living.

PP You want to belong to someone completely. You want to be claimed, kept, chosen—to have undeniable proof that you matter enough to be held onto. You'll go all-in to prove your devotion and you need to know—really KNOW—that you're wanted. Your loyalty and capacity for devotion are real gifts. Your challenge is recognizing that external belonging can't create internal security. The intensity, the devotion, the constant checking—these can be beautiful expressions of love, but they can't solve the underlying fear. Work on building security inside yourself that doesn't depend on someone else's constant reassurance.

II You pride yourself on needing no one. You're strong, capable, and completely self-sufficient. Depending on others? That's for other people. Your competence and independence are real—but so is your defended position. Your challenge is recognizing that dismissing needs isn't the same as transcending them. You may have desires buried so deep you can't access them. Consider whether your self-sufficiency is genuine peace or defended avoidance. Allowing yourself to need someone doesn't destroy you—it makes you human.

| II           | Independent Icon     | 8-12%               | Less common dismissive pattern                               |

TOTAL 100%

IF YOUR DISTRIBUTION IS OFF:

Problem: GN too high (>25%)

Solution: The subtractive questions aren't penalizing enough. Increase weight on Q1, Q3, Q4, Q5, Q12

Problem: Anxious profiles (EE, HD, PP) too low

Solution: Lower the subtraction penalty for these profiles

Problem: Avoidant profiles (LW, CC, II) too low

Solution: Lower the subtraction penalty for these profiles

SHEET 8: ALTERNATIVE SCORING METHOD (Copy everything below into Sheet 8)

If the formula method doesn't give good distribution, try this THRESHOLD method:

STEP 1: Calculate these scales first

| Scale_Name      | Questions                                      | Formula | High_Threshold                      |
|-----------------|------------------------------------------------|---------|-------------------------------------|
| Anxiety         | Q3, Q9, Q11, Q15, Q17, Q23, Q30                | Sum all | 18 or higher = High Anxiety         |
| Avoidance       | Q4, Q7, Q10, Q14, Q18, Q24, Q29, Q35           | Sum all | 21 or higher = High Avoidance       |
| Disorganization | Q12, Q19, Q25, Q32, Q36                        | Sum all | 14 or higher = High Disorganization |
| Security        | Q2, Q8, Q13, Q20, Q27, Q28, Q31, Q33, Q37, Q40 | Sum all | 38 or higher = High Security        |
| Shame           | Q5, Q6, Q16, Q21, Q22, Q34                     | Sum all | 16 or higher = High Shame           |

|              |                   |         |                                 |
|--------------|-------------------|---------|---------------------------------|
| Intellectual | Q14, Q29          | Sum all | 7 or higher = High Intellectual |
| Devotion     | Q9, Q11, Q23, Q30 | Sum all | 14 or higher = High Devotion    |
| Dismissive   | Q10, Q35          | Sum all | 7 or higher = High Dismissive   |

STEP 2: Apply decision tree IN THIS ORDER

| Step | Condition                                                    | Assign_Profile       |
|------|--------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|
| 1    | High Disorganization ( $\geq 14$ )                           | Mystery Mosaic       |
| 2    | High Anxiety AND High Shame (both thresholds met)            | Heartfelt Defender   |
| 3    | High Anxiety AND High Devotion (both thresholds met)         | Passionate Pilgrim   |
| 4    | High Anxiety AND NOT High Avoidance                          | Emotional Enthusiast |
| 5    | High Avoidance AND High Intellectual (both thresholds met)   | Chill Conductor      |
| 6    | High Avoidance AND High Dismissive (both thresholds met)     | Independent Icon     |
| 7    | High Avoidance AND NOT High Anxiety                          | Lone Wolf            |
| 8    | High Security AND Low Anxiety AND Low Avoidance              | Grounded Navigator   |
| 9    | None of above Assign based on highest individual scale score |                      |

=====

SHEET 9: VALIDATION CHECKLIST (Copy everything below into Sheet 9)

Before launching, test with 50-100 users and check:

| Metric        | Target | Action_If_Off                                      |
|---------------|--------|----------------------------------------------------|
| GN percentage | 12-18% | If higher, increase Security threshold to 40+      |
| EE percentage | 12-18% | If lower, decrease Anxiety threshold to 16         |
| LW percentage | 10-15% | If lower, decrease Avoidance threshold to 19       |
| MM percentage | 8-12%  | If lower, decrease Disorganization threshold to 12 |
| HD percentage | 12-18% | If lower, decrease Shame threshold to 14           |
| CC percentage | 8-12%  | If lower, decrease Intellectual threshold to 6     |
| PP percentage | 10-15% | If lower, decrease Devotion threshold to 12        |
| II percentage | 8-12%  | If lower, decrease Dismissive threshold to 6       |

Face Validity Check:

Have 20 users read their results and rate "How accurate is this?" (1-5 scale)

Target: Average rating of 3.5 or higher

If lower: Review questions that may be confusing or culturally biased

DATABASE STORAGE:

- Store all 40 raw responses
- Store all 8 profile scores
- Store final assigned profile
- Store timestamp

This allows re-scoring later if formulas are adjusted.
